Preface

The primary goal of the current educational system is to mound a productive citizen and a caring family member who is equipped with knowledge and skills. The main responsibility of the school is to identify and recognize children's talents, as well as to sharpen their skills to meet the needs ofthe nation and the world. Our Alma Mater is constantly guiding and assisting children who are creative. This project has been an ongoing process at our school for many years, particularly in terms of writing books. Many skilled and enthusiastic young writers participated in this exercise for years, producing novice writers to field of literature. We regard this as a great victoryand a national need at thishour.

To continuethis effort, we have adopteddigital technologies and an e-bookproject this year.I am confident that this unique event provided youngsters with valuable experience and challenges that will benefit them in the future.

The Ministry of Education has hailed the project as an important step toward motivating young authors in schools. As principal of Mahamaya Girls' College, I am grateful to all of the studentsthroughout the countrywho contributed to this endeavor.I commend and applaud all of the young authors of these-books for their perseverance and devotion in this difficult task.

I would like to thank our school management committee, employees, parents,for my students, administrators, and teachers from other schools who encouraged students to take part in thisworthwhile effort.

Once upon a time there lived a boy named Helindu. Today he was very excited to play with his new friend Mihindi.

Your paragraph text

But Mihindi didn't come to play yet. so Helindu asked his mom.

"Mommy why isn't Mihindi coming?

"She will come. Just wait a little",

mom said.

But still Mihindi didn't come.

So he went to ask his mother again.

But mommy wasn't there . So Helindu went outside to see if Mihindi comes.

Finally, Helindu saw Mihindi.

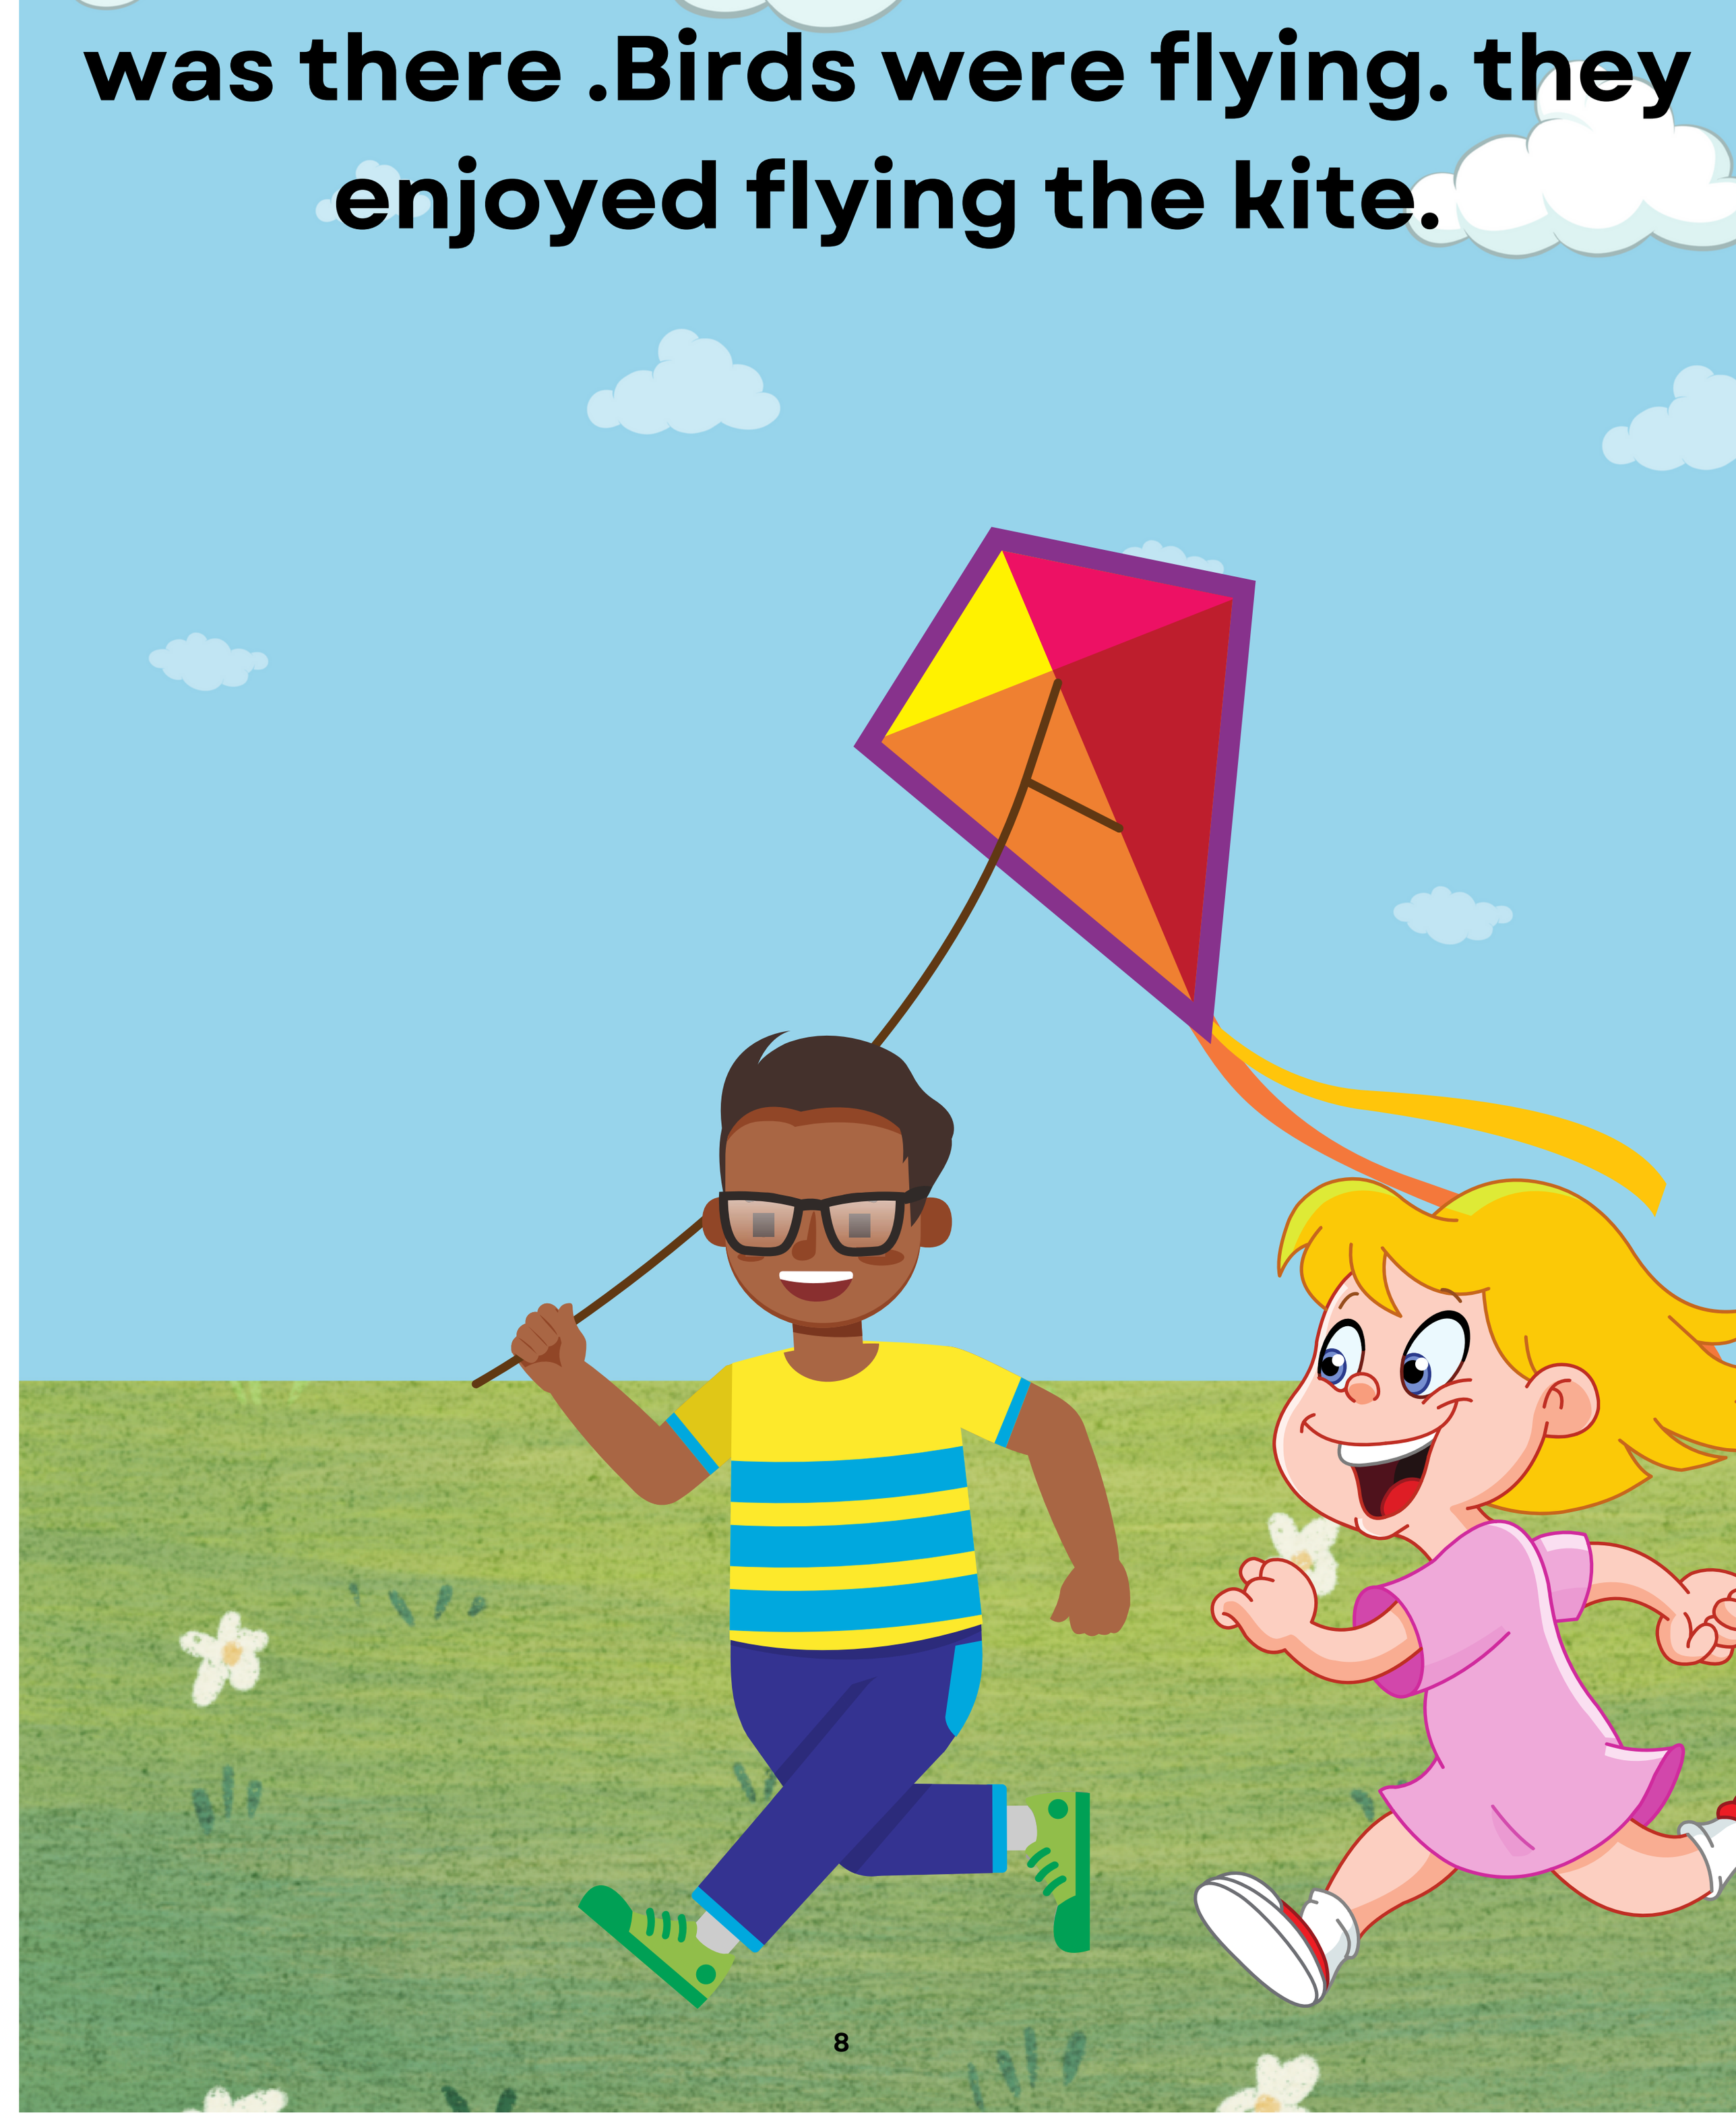
Crying at the other side of the road.

"Why are you crying?" asked Helindu. I hurt my leg. said Mihindi. So He put on a plaster. And Helindu wanted Mihindi to play with him.

"What game should we play?"
asked Mihindi.
"Let's fly a kite ." said Helindu .
Ok, said Mihindi.

So Helindu brought a kite.

And they flew the kite. A rainbow was there .Birds were flying. they enjoyed flying the kite.



But Helindu stopped flying . Mihindi asked “why did you stop?”

“ I think we should draw some beautiful pictures in this old kite”. said Helindu.

“Okay”. said Mihindi.

They drew a beautiful picture in the kite. Helindu Thanked Mihindi. Welcome, said Mihindi. Mihindi and Helindu Flew the kite.

Afterword

As modern technology permeates the social and economic arenas, students tend to distance themselves from the creative process, relying more and more on technological tools. To reduce this risk and help aspiring young writers produce their own books, I sought and presented a research proposal to the Ministry of Education in 2014. It was a fantastic opportunity for children to showcase their enthusiasm and knowledge. The students of Mahamaya Girls' College achieved a record for the most bookswritten, paving the way for a new level of innovation.

The e-book project will enable the students to reach international readers, and I am confident that they have gained new experiences and challenges that will enable them to face the future with resolve.

I wish all of the young writers the best of luck in their future endeavors
