Preface

The primary goal of the current educational system is to mould a productive citizen and a caring family member who is equipped with knowledge and skills. The main responsibility of the school is to identify and recognize children's talents, as well as to sharpen their skills to meet the needs of the nation and the world.

Our Alma Mater is constantly guiding and assisting children who are creative. This project has been an ongoing process at our school for many years, particularly in terms of writing books. Many skilled and enthusiastic young writers participated in this exercise for years, producing novice writers to field of literature. We regard this as a great victory and a national need at this hour.

To continue this effort, we have adopted digital technologies and an e-book project this year. I am confident that this unique event provided youngsters with valuable experience and challenges that will benefit them in the future.

The Ministry of Education has hailed the project as an important step toward motivating young authors in schools. As principal of Mahamaya Girls' College, I am grateful to all of the students throughout the country who contributed to this endeavor. I commend and applaud all of the young authors of these-books for their perseverance and devotion in this difficult task.

I would like to thank our school management committee, employees, parents, for my students, administrators, and teachers from other schools who encouraged students to take part in this worthwhile effort.

Thinu is a very cute and lovable little girl. Thinu Baby's pet is Rinky. Rinky is a lovely little puppy.

But, Rinkey is not Thinu's pet. It is Vishu aiya's pet who lives in front of Thinu's house.'

A colorful illustration of a scene. In the foreground, there is a wooden fence made of vertical planks, with a gate on the right side. To the left of the fence is a large green tree with a brown trunk. The sky is light blue and contains several blue, fluffy clouds, a smiling yellow sun with eyes and a mouth, and several black birds in flight. The text is written in red, bold letters across the middle of the scene.

Every day when the gate is opened, Rinky comes running to see little Thinu and jumps, dances and plays on grass with Thinu. Every day Thinu waits till Rinky comes.

But, one day Rinky didn't come to Thinu's house.

Thinu waited for a long time and she couldn't bear any more and went to Vishu Aiya's house to see Rinky.

Alas! Little Rinky's leg was hurt. Rinky's eyes were full of tears Rinky couldn't even walk Vish aiya was also crying. "A bad child hit Rinky's leg with a stone while Rinky was walking along the road" said Vishu aiya.

Thinu thought, even though I love Rinky. I hurt tiny ants and butterflies, don't I? I'm also a bad child, aren't I? They also feel pain just like us. Don't they? Thinu wondered sadly Mommy, Rinky is hurt Thinu explained to her mother.

What happened to Rinky. "It's not good to harm animal's. Animals also feel the pain like us.

It's a sin. This Lord Buddha's teaching" mother said, since then, Thinu never hurt any big or small animals
Thinu decided to be good child always.

Afterword

As modern technology permeates the social and economic arenas, students tend to distance themselves from the creative process, relying more and more on technological tools. To reduce this risk and help aspiring young writers produce their own books, I sought and presented a research proposal to the Ministry of Education in 2014. It was a fantastic opportunity for children to showcase their enthusiasm and knowledge.

The students of Mahamaya Girls' College achieved a record for the most books written, paving the way for a new level of innovation. The e-book project will enable the students to reach international readers, and I am confident that they have gained new experiences and challenges that will enable them to face the future with resolve. I wish all of the young writers the best of luck in their future endeavors
