Dedication

I dedicate this story to my loving class teacher Mrs. Wasana Wijekoon, and all the other teachers who have helped and guided me in many ways.

To my grandmother, parents, and my brother, for motivating me and supporting me in completing the story.

Finally, I extend my gratitude to my school for giving me the opportunity to share my story.

Foreword

In an increasingly complex global future, the "Hemamala Upahara" book project, led by Mahamaya Girls' College, stands as a turning point in girls' education. Over a decade, it has successfully nurtured thousands of children to become young authors.

This year, by collaborating with other schools, we aimed to provide students with a wealth of new experiences. The goal was to develop multifaceted skills, including communication, values, and creative growth. As a result, children have written books that pay tribute to Princess Hemamala, who brought the Sacred Tooth Relic—the supreme symbol of the Buddhist world—to the Hill Country (Kandy).

I extend my gratitude to everyone involved, including the students who contributed their creativity and the teachers who guided them.

Congratulatory Message

It is a great honor for me, as the Governor of the Central Province, to send a congratulatory message for the launch of the books created through the Hemamala Tribute Book Creation Project initiated by Mahamaya Girls' College, Kandy. Education is the fundamental foundation for the progress of society, and it is further strengthened through books and literary creations. It is clearly commendable that students' talents, creativity, and intellectual abilities are emerging through projects such as this. I believe that this book creation project will provide valuable knowledge and a precious literary contribution not only to the students but to the entire society. Furthermore, I hope that through such efforts, future writers who will bring pride to Sri Lanka will emerge. I extend my heartfelt appreciation and blessings to the principal, the academic staff, the students, and everyone involved who dedicated themselves to this successful endeavor. I wish this project and the book launch ceremony great success.

Congratulatory Message

I highly appreciate the noble and outstanding effort of the principal and the academic staff of Mahamaya Girls' College, Kandy, the student daughters, the students of other participating schools, and everyone who dedicated themselves to plan and implement this book publication project. The project was organized under the leadership of Mahamaya Girls' College, Kandy, with the participation of other schools in the Kandy Zone, with the aim of encouraging children toward book creation within the current school system, as a tribute to Hemamala Kumariya who brought the Sacred Tooth Relic to Sri Lanka. For several decades, Sri Lanka has been committed to providing free, compulsory, quality, and equitable education to all children, thereby producing a future generation of intelligent and skilled citizens. In such a context, this book creation program for school children helps develop creative ability, critical thinking, and other positive qualities for a balanced and well-rounded personality, and contributes to building a future knowledge-based society. May all activities of the Hemamala Tribute Book Creation Project be successful through the blessings of the Sacred Tooth Relic.

Once upon a time there was a fairy named Sera. And she loves to jump up and down and play with her friends. She had long hair. But she wanted to be like her friends, so she cut her hair short.

Sera had two fairy friends called Pinky and Rosy. One day it was Sera's birthday and her friends came to celebrate the birthday. Sera were so happy.

Pinky, her best friend had her birthday and it was not a good one for her. Because both sera and rosy were sick. So, they couldn't go to her birthday party. She was so sad.

So, they have planned to put up a surprise party for Pinky on another day. On that day Pinky was sleeping on her bed in the morning.

Sera and Rosy went to her house, secretly took a box, put all the gifts that Pinky likes, and wrapped it. Then they secretly hid the box in a secret room at her house where Pinky is not allowed to go in.

They decorated the room with balloons, ribbons and confetti. Sera's mother brought a trampoline to jump up and down on. And also, they brought a beautiful queen cake.

They made a small stream outside the house in front of Pinky's room so that every day when she wakes up, she will see beautiful fish swimming in the stream.

When Pinky woke up her mother asked her to go to the secret room and see what's inside. So, Pinky went near the room, and opened the door.

Pinky was so surprised to see the decorated room, and her friends came out shouting “SUPPRISE!!!”

They cut the cake and jumped on the trampoline, and confetti fell from the roof.

They gave her the gifts, and then they took her to show the stream they made. Pinky was so happy.

And they happily celebrated her birthday.

Afterword

With the approval of the Ministry of Education, this research-based project has empowered thousands of student authors for over ten years. Educationists recognize it as a program that significantly enhances the quality of school education.

In alignment with modern educational reforms, encouraging students to author a research work is a milestone in this journey. In this digital age of "Smart" technology, the modern school must demonstrate through research that books and technology should be used together. This is because the unique joy a child receives from a book cannot be replaced by anything else.

To prevent children from drifting away from books—which remain our primary educational tool and storehouse of human knowledge—Mahamaya Girls' College has spearheaded the "Hemamala Upahara" project for many years. Its primary objectives are to foster academic discipline, promote values, and pay tribute to Princess Hemamala, who fulfilled a historic mission to empower women.

We express our gratitude to the principal, teachers, parents, alumni of Mahamaya Girls' College, representatives of other schools, the Diyawadana Nilame, and the staff of the Sri Dalada Maligawa (Temple of the Sacred Tooth Relic) for their support.
